CHAIR CRAZY 021 465 9991

ABOVE: Chair Crazy supplied the bar stools in this stylish home. The company specialises in all kinds of seating solutions. Born and bred in Cape Town, the company grew up in the heart of South Africa's design capital. It has been supplying the country with stunning seating solutions since 2003, from hotels and restaurants to interior design projects.

BELOW: AMC Cookware has been a household brand in South Africa for over 50 years. A manufacturer of high-quality stainless steel cookware, the company's range represents healthy living and product innovation. Its lifetime guarantee and excellent customer service give customers peace of mind that they'll always be cooking their meals in the best cookware possible.

These owners have been living in the area for a number of years and have grown to love having the best of both worlds at their disposal. "We enjoy the balance the area offers between the beautiful beaches on the one side and the winelands on the other," says the owner.

They had a clear vision about the design and décor. "We spent quite some time on the detail, because we were both very specific on what we wanted," the owner says.

The design is based on creating light and open-plan spaces that all flow into one another – from the TV lounge at the one end to the braai room at the other, with the kitchen, lounge and cocktail lounge in between. Huge glass doors open up these spaces, creating a seamless flow. "With no other house on our doorstep, a tranquil feeling of openness has been created," says the owner.

The interior boasts cool, calming shades accentuated by pops of colour, making for a tranquil and relaxed ambience. The kitchen is a large space and the owners have opted to ensure the countertops and appliances stand out. "We wanted to make a statement in this large space," says the owner.

The property is well designed for all seasons. The family spends ample time in the cocktail lounge and braai room. "The lounge chairs are interchangeable and can be moved around, allowing inside living on a cold winter's day, or outside living on a warm summer's day with the glass doors open," says the owner.

Apart from being a gem to call home, this property is also environmentally friendly. It was built with autoclaved aerated concrete blocks and all the glass is double-glazed, allowing for extra insulation. 🏡
